Manager's Note: June 19, 1992

The Good News

May KALW staff, volunteers, listeners and subscribers working together gave KALW our very best ever on-air fundraising, demonstrating unprecedented listener support for education and information radio in the Bay Area! Thanks to all of you who called and to volunteers who helped "personning" the telephones. It is gratifying to note the extent of your, our listeners, support for this pathfinding and unique radio program service. That's the good news.

The Bad News

As I write in mid-June, the San Francisco Unified School District is facing a $25 to $40 million dollar shortfall, which makes prospects for KALW's continuing support from them increasingly doubtful. While SFUSD owns the license to operate KALW and has provided significant financial support for the station in the past, the extraordinary budget conditions resulting from the state-wide economic downturn will make it difficult for the District to allocate significant cash support for KALW. Maybe they will find it, but as the manager I have to plan realistically for the worst case.

This means that we may have to operate KALW with even less money than we have counted on in the past. KALW is already a barebones operation, so any cuts will come out of flesh and bones. While adjusting to these difficult conditions we will attempt to avoid any diminution of service.

What You Can Do About It

EACH ONE, GET ONE: It is very important for each and every one of you who is now a subscriber and/or a listener to get a friend that you know listens to KALW to subscribe to KALW. If we can double, or nearly double, the number of subscribers, KALW will not have to consider facing the inevitable budget ax caused by the School District's $25 million dollar budget deficit for the coming year.

Listener Questionnaire

As always in the summer, we ask you, our listeners, to respond to our questionnaire so that we can use your responses to guide our selection of new radio programs. This questionnaire can be found on page 12. This is your chance to let us know what you like, want and need from your station, so please fill it out and mail it in as soon as possible; we need it by September 30, at the latest.

New Programs

The program schedule retains its basic familiar outline, but we are offering several new, informative radio programs for your pleasure and enlightenment.

Reflecting our concern with education and family issues, we are initiating a new program, Sylvia Rimm On Raising Kids, featuring nationally known psychologist, author, and columnist Dr. Sylvia Rimm. The program offers down-to-earth, common-sense advice on contemporary child-rearing from infancy through young adulthood. Dr. Rimm is the author of Underachievement Syndrome—Causes and Cures: How to Parent So Children Will Learn, and several other books. Her emphasis on parenting for achievement makes her program especially relevant to education-conscious public radio listeners. This program will be broadcast on Sunday afternoons at 4 PM.

Zorba Paster—On Your Health (Sundays at 3 PM) will bring additional programming to the health area pioneered by Helen Fruchman's Health News and Views (Mondays at 11:45 AM). Paster is not only an active medical practitioner but also a lively personality, and this is one advice show that is both informative and fun.

Also in the health field, KALW will be broadcasting a live call-in show, HIV Monthly, at 1 PM on the first Sunday of each month. The program is produced by World Health Communications and featuring doctor Ron Grossman responding to listener questions. This is an opportunity for people who have AIDs or are HIV positive, their friends and relatives, professionals and volunteers working with AIDS patients and anyone else who wants to learn more about AIDS to call in with questions and comments. This program supplements the other program dealing specifically with the AIDS crisis, AIDS In Focus at noon on Mondays.

A big piece of news is that As It Happens, the brilliant weekday newsprogram produced by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation (CBC), will finally be 90 minutes long beginning this quarter. The full program, after all of these years, is now available to us. The cost is that All Things Considered is reduced to one hour. As this program is available fully at 2 PM and again on other stations, we chose this as the most efficient way of dealing with the new opportunity.

I have selected the Passages to India for a second run in Manager's Corner (Wednesdays at noon) because it is such a fine educational series. Most of us know far too little about India, the vast, multi-cultural nation with a billion-plus population and a great and illustrious history. It behooves us all to know as much as we can about this as an active and important Pacific Basin trader.

On Sundays at midnight KALW will bring, for the first time to the Bay Area, BBC Play of the Week. These plays may turn out to be too arcane for a broad listenership, but I am hoping that the BBC programmers have chosen material that can be understood and appreciated by those of living outside of Great Britain. Let us know how you like this programming experiment.

Another local program, City Views, will have Rose Levinson speaking with policy-makers and opinion-molders about health care, the environment, regional government, the economy, foundations, the arts, the volunteer sector, and the businesses which are the foundation of our economic life here in San Francisco and the Bay Area. Ms. Levinson has considerable previous civic experience.

We are moving the Radio Reader to 8:30 in the evening so that we can bring you two hours of music programming every weeknight. Bob Clark's popular Looking Back music program moves to Friday nights at 9:00 PM to pair with Fascinatin' Rhythm at 10 PM.

New volunteer program producer, Henri-Pierre Koubaka, who majored in African literature, says that he "grew up surrounded by musicians and playing traditional African drums. My love for music took me to dancing clubs where I was a D.J." Henri-Pierre's program, Kumpo Beat (10 PM, Thursdays) will follow the popular Afropop Worldwide which we will broadcast Thursdays at 9 PM.

John Dvorack's popular newspaper column on computers is now a radio program Software-Hardtalk available to non-commercial stations and can be heard Thursdays at 1:30 PM.

Keys to the House, a youth-oriented house music program returns late Saturday night, really early Sunday mornings, at 12:30 AM.

Finally

It has been a privilege to work with all of you, staff, listeners, volunteers. I hope that it will be possible to continue to bring you what is arguably one of the best non-commercial radio news and information services in the United States.

Your continued support will make it possible.

Sincerely,

Daniel del Solar

HERE WE STAY

S.F. Schools' FM Station Seeks Donations

Facing budget cuts, KALW takes initiative

By Ken J. ...

KALW, the San Francisco School District's public radio station, is seeking donations to help maintain its programming.

KALW 91.7 FM

WITH THE CRUMBS being applied to both state and local budgets, the Bay Area cultural scene is feeling a pinch. Up in the air is the station receiving from the San Francisco Board of Education.

It gets a stable chunk of backing (about 50% from the board, but that money is in jeopardy. So, with cash flow down to trickle, the station is appealing for help to tide it over a perilous patch.

It does many good things for the community. Meetings of the city and county are broadcast. A new program in the area of upward programming in the area of the National Public Broadcasting Corporation and teachers. It has been properly cited as something of a local treasure and merited its wide local support.

Budget crunch

Henri KALW

... is waiting for the state budget to be sorted out. ... KALW support ... recommended that the ... district stop funding KALW.

Officials take pains to assert that the recommendation won't necessarily fly. School board member ... not get as much ...

FALL 1992 RADIO PROGRAM SCHEDULE

Meet The New Manager

The somewhat tongue in cheek headline on the cover of this program guide testifies to the fact that KALW has, with your help, survived California's latest fiscal storm. As with most survivors, we're a little battered, a little wiser and much, much stronger. KALW's future holds the promise of unlimited opportunity. Opportunity to make this radio station even more responsive to the needs of our community. Opportunity to create more innovative and entertaining ways of involving our schools, our kids and you in a partnership based on the open exchange of information and ideas in a lifelong learning experience.

Oops, I know I wrote the "L" word but, isn't that what KALW's always been about. Information, learning education? That's why most of us listen, to acquire the knowledge we need to stay in contact with the events and ideas that shape our rapidly changing world.

Since joining KALW, I'm amazed at the number of friends, acquaintances, potential underwriters and supporters who tell me that 91.7 is the first or second button on their radios. I'm equally impressed by the level of loyalty, financial support and personal connection to the station expressed in your comments, phone calls, subscriptions and letters.

In a broadcasting career of almost 4 decades, I've never seen a radio station that was more connected to it's audience than KALW and I've never met a staff that better deserved that affirmation. To a person, the staff and volunteer producers you've come to know as the voices of KALW are dedicated broadcasters. Each, highly-talented and truly professional in their commitment to the well being of this station.

You'll hear more of this talent pool as we begin producing more and better local programming. You'll hear new voices too as we begin to reintegrate San Francisco Public Schools kids into our operation and air sound. You'll hear a soundscape of the concerns, ideas and wisdom of our younger generation as students and schools

Performing Arts Fantasy

By Alan Farley

Seeing two wonderful musical revues recently set me to fantasizing about what might exist in the best of all possible musical worlds. The revue "Cole" (seen in August at the Marine's Memorial Theater), a delicious brew of the elegant, sophisticated and luminous lyrics and music of Cole Porter, and "You're Gonna Love Tomorrow," a Stephen Sondheim revue, mounted for an all-too-brief four weeks at the Marin Theater Company, proved that sophisticated musical revues can pack them in when they're produced with style and attractive, well-matched casts.

My fantasy is the "San Francisco Repertory Revue Company" - which would perform the music of a dozen or so of the best lyricist-composer combinations in rotating repertory - in an intimate setting. To the Porter and Sondheim shows just mentioned, I would add (of course) a Noël Coward revue and others of the music/lyrics of the Gershwins, Rodgers and Hart, Frank Loesser, Lerner and Loewe, Johnny Mercer, Jerome Kern, Yip Harburg, Harold Arlen and Leonard Bernstein - for starters.

I'd nominate Baomi Butts-Bhanji, Carl Danielsen, Joseph Lustig, Mandy Munnell, Jim Newman and Cathy Susan Pyles from "Cole" and Robert Bubon, Meg MacKay, Christine McHugh, Maureen McVerry and Gregory C. Watt from "You're Gonna Love Tomorrow" as the talent pool of performers. Directors Bick Goss and Kurt Reinhardt (of the aforementioned revues) would get my vote to do the staging. The success of these intimate shows proves that there is an audience for intelligent musical revues - with much more to sink your teeth into than the flashier, and ultimately more ephemeral "Will Rogers Follies" or "Grand Hotel" imports - where the only memorable Tune is the director.

Noël Coward

And while on the subject of Noël Coward (or hadn't you noticed?), let me call your attention to my annual Birthday special for The Master - we celebrate his 93rd with an hour of musical treats and interview rarities on Sunday, December 20 at 5 pm.

John Adams

For something completely different, I hope you'll tune in to my two part interview with composer John Adams. This bay area treasure, who in less than fifteen years has gone from leading the San Francisco Conservatory of Music's New Music Ensemble to serving as the San Francisco Symphony's Composer-in-Residence, has become internationally recognized as one of the most important composers of his generation. On these two programs, to be heard on October 25 and November 1 at noon, we discuss his career in general and his latest and most controversial opera, "The Death of Klinghoffer," which opens at the San Francisco Opera on November 7. In each program you can hear him discuss his work, together with some musical examples.

haven't fulfilled your pledge yet, please do so . . . our staff and volunteer resources are very limited and the costs of reaching you to honor your pledge are high.

As manager, my primary responsibility is to develop and expand our revenue sources, that's how we stay in business. To do that we need your help. This is really your radio on, you are our stockholders, our investors, our benefactors and our Board of Directors. Help us protect and increase the return from your investment.

Pass the word to your friends who may not yet be subscribers, if you can afford an additional subscription we can use it, we always need volunteers with all sorts of skills, have you got a few hours to spare, call us, it's fun! If you've got some ideas on any aspect of the station's operation, from fundraising to programming, jot them down and mail them to me. I'll answer you, really.

How about underwriting your favorite program, it's good for business and for individuals, it's deductible. If you're reading this you're probably a regular listener; what's that worth? The cost of dinner out, a concert ticket, a movie? If you're listening on our free-sample plan . . . cough up! Use the coupon or charge card phone number on the back cover. Vote with your dollars for your favorite programs, features or hosts.

I can't be any more direct than that. We need your help and we appreciate it.

I'll trade our promise for your support . . . we promise to make KALW even more relevant, informational and entertaining, even more of what you expect when you listen to 91.7, Information Radio.

Thanks,

Jerry
